ASHINGTON, March 21 .- In calling upon President Castro for an answer to his proposition to subarbitration the issues between the United States and Venezuela, Bowen is acting in connection with instructions from the state department which have recently been placed in his hands. Mr. Bowen made a proposition of this kind to the Venezuelan foreign office several months ago, and there was an exchange of notes on the subject, but its further consideration was cut off by the abrupt departure from the capital of President Castro at a moment when his own decision was required. The Venezuelan government, at that stage, had made a counter-propo-sition to Mr. Bowen, looking to the ar-bitration of the dispute by The Hague tribunal, but with the important quali-fication that the tribunal should arbirate as a preliminary the question as whether or not the United States ernment had the right, under international law, to intervene at all, as un der the Venezuelan government's claims the American concessionaires must look to Venezuela for their protection. This was construed here as an attempt to bring into play the old Calvo declara-tion, which the United States has reso-lutely and repeatedly refused to accept its negotiations with southern re publics. So Mr. Bowen reported to the state department the fact of President Castro's departure, and asked for in-structions. These were prepared with great care and after Attorney General great care and after Attorney General
Moody had, upon call from the president, furnished an opinion to the effect that the proceedings in the Venezuelan courts involving the asphait company's asphalt case, there are three other German bondholders, which if consun

American minister, Mr. Bowen, requiring an answer as to whether Venezuela will arbitrate the questions reading and saying that in open for further negotiations if the department decides that the time has not et arrived to withdraw its ministe and adopt some coercive measures.

CLAIMS OF FRANCE.

Ultimatem Has Not Been Presented as Yet.

Paris, March 21.-The foreign office has not presented an ultimati and no French warship has een sent to Venezuela. The statement to that effect results from the publica-tion in London newspapers of dispatches saying the presentation of an ultimatum had been followed by the dispatch of two warships. The officials here are surprised and displeased at the reports, which they construe as tending to force the hand of France into a more aggressive and bellige policy than France contemplates. United States occupies the best position in which to send warships owing to the length of time the American controversy with Venezuela has been pending, whereas the French controversy is of comparative recent origin and has not yet been decided by the courts.

The instructions sent to the French minister at Caracas directed that diplomatic representations he made replomatic representations be made r lative to the holding up of the vested rights of the cable company, but did not contemplate threats or an ultima tum, as the authorities say the affai has not gravity calling for steps of such a war-like character. Up to noon today neither the foreign office nor the cable company had received the expected decision of the Caracas court upon the French Cable company's

The council of ministers met this norming and Foreign Minister Delcasse lengtheily detailed the relations with Morocco, but the statement regarding the proceedings of the council does not mention Venezuela. This means that no action will be taken pending the receipt of information as to the Caracas

Therefore, Mr. Bowen was told to renew his proposition for a free arbitration of the issues between Venezuela and the United States at the first opportunity, and this it appears, he has per cent of all the Venezuelan customs

BRITISH NAVAL PROGRAMME PUT INTO WORDS BY THE ADMIRALTY LORD

London, March 21.—In the house of fords this evening the navy expenditure was lengthily discussed on the tall of the Liberal leader, Earl Spencer, for papers regarding the naval programme. He said he did not desire to great establishments outside of Russia for a renewal of her navy. He did not think the fact that Russia had lost five battleships was a circumstance sufficient to justify the arrest of Great Britain's shipbuilding programme. o condemn the government, but he gramme wanted an explanation of the plans involving the withdrawal of such a large number of vessels from the list of vessels which could be commissioned for active service and the reasons for the increased expenditure since 1894-5.

Viscount Goschen justified the vast increase in the last fifteen years. He said the two-power standard was no longer applicable. One thing had been strongly brought out by the Russolapanese war, namely, difficulties which might arise with neutrals, and the necessity of maintaining an attiwhich might arise with neutrals, and the necessity of maintaining in attitude of dignity and power thereto. Viscount Goschen said he did not think there was any harm in discussing these questions. Chancellor Von Buelow was very candid occasionally in remarks with regard to European piolitics. Con-tinuing, Viscount Goschen said when any power with twelve battleships was within 100 miles of the English coast, that was the power which must be considered side by side with prepa-
